Happiness

Does God love you? Does God want you to be happy?

How important is your happiness to God? Let's take a vote (everyone has to vote):

Very Important

Important

Unimportant

Very Unimportant

Don't Know

Forgot to Vote (I told you everyone has to vote!)

How many of you are Christians, raise your hands. I have a question for the Christians, if you not a Christian this question is not for you so just the Christians should answer.

If happiness is God's top priority for you where is the best place for you to be to be happy? Heaven. Yet we are all still here. So why are we still here? Let them list some reasons (plan, unfinished work, evangelism, etc). Tonight I am going to show you what the plan is, what the unfinished work is and guess what? It's the same for everyone. Since we are all still here that means that being happy is not the top priority. It also means that something else is. Tonight we will find out what God's top priority is.

We will answer the question, "What is the Prime Directive"?

Ephesians 4:13 – “until we all attain to the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, to a mature man, to the measure of the stature which belongs to the fullness of Christ.”

Developing the Character of Christ.

I Peter 1:6,7 – “In this you greatly rejoice, even though now for a little while, if necessary, you have been distressed by various trials, so that the proof of your faith, being more precious than gold which is perishable, even though tested by fire, may be found to result in praise and glory and honor at the revelation of Jesus Christ;” Developing a Godly Faith.

Godly Faith and a Christlike Character are extremely valuable in eternity. They are like gold and God loves you so much he wants you to be as successful as possible in eternity – he wants you to have as much of these two things as possible. If God has to put you through some short term unhappiness on the Earth in order to build these two things into your life He is willing to do that.

Key Point: The Prime Directive is the development of a Godly Faith and a Christlike Character in your life.

Does God want you to be happy? Of course He does. Is it His top priority? No.

Discipline

Hebrews 12:11 – “All discipline for the moment seems not to be joyful, but sorrowful; yet to those who have been trained by it, afterwards it yields the peaceful fruit of righteousness.”

Discipline: Training of mental, moral, & physical powers by instruction, control, practice

So, God uses discipline to help us grow in Faith and Character. What does discipline feel like? It is sorrowful or painful at the time. But what is the result? Righteousness.

Proverbs 6:23 – “For the commandment is a lamp and the teaching is light; and reproofs for discipline are the way of life.” God uses many things to develop our Faith and Character but the tool he uses most often day in and day out is discipline applied by human authority.

What’s a Reproof? It is correction – I don’t like the way you did that – do it this way next time – authorities will be talking to you that way for the rest of your life. Its not personal, that’s just the way life is.

Romans 13:1,2 – “Every person is to be in subjection to the governing authorities. For there is no authority except from God, and those which exist are established by God. Therefore whoever resists authority has opposed the ordinance of God; and they who have opposed will receive condemnation upon themselves.”

Human Authority – You Can’t Escape

Authority: The power (ability) & legal right to punish & reward others within certain boundaries of life.

All authority comes from and is established by God. When we resist authority we are opposing the ordinance of God himself. Because of this we need to think long and hard before resisting an authority that God has put in our life.

Most of the people who are going to have authority over us will be non-christians. Why is that? Because most people are non-christians. Do we still have to obey the authority if they are not Christians? Yes. They are being used as agents of God in our lives even if the authority themselves is unaware of that.

As you get older will you be under more authority or less? More, in fact you will be under human authority of one form or another until the day you die – in fact, you cannot escape.

Let’s say you have a rebellious 18 year old boy. He graduates from high school and he says, “I’m not going to college, I’m tired of people making me go to school. I’m going to do whatever I want and I’m old enough now that there is nothing my parents can do about it. I’m going to have fun and just party every day!” What’s going to happen to him? After a while he is going to run out of money. “Dude, I’m out of money. I got to have money to party, dude”. So what does he do? He goes down to McDonald’s or something and gets a job. What do you get when you get a job? You get a boss - “I don’t like the way you made that burger, do it this way next time” – and there he is right back under authority.

Or maybe he says, “I’m ready to get out of this town. I’m going to travel the world and make my own decisions, live my own life, get away from everyone who knows me. I’m tired of people telling me what to do. I know, I’ll join the Army!” Its not long before he meets the First Sergeant. Better do what he says or you’ll be in the brig. Or maybe the Marines, then he’ll meet the Gunny Sergeant – “I don’t like the way you dug that trench, do it this way next time”.

Or maybe we have a rebellious 18 year old girl. “I’m tired of my parents telling me what to do. I’m going to do what I want and be free. I know, I’ll get married”, and there she is back under the authority of her husband.

Human authority – you can’t escape, its impossible.

Rebellion – A Direct Threat to the Prime Directive

What happens if we rebel against these authorities God puts in our lives?

I Samuel 15:22,23 – “Samuel said, Has the Lord as much delight in burnt offerings and sacrifices as in obeying the voice of the Lord? Behold, to obey is better than sacrifice, and to heed than the fat of rams. For rebellion is as the sin of divination, and insubordination is as iniquity and idolatry. Because you have rejected the word of the Lord, He has also rejected you from being king.”

In the eyes of God a spirit of rebellion is on the same moral plane as witchcraft, sorcery, and the occult. We need to remember that rebellion is extremely nasty stuff and will cost us. Why is it so nasty? Because if you are in rebellion it is not possible to grow in character and faith. Because it is a direct threat to the main reason you are still on the Earth, God is committed to dealing with it. In fact he has a four step plan.

God's 4 Step Plan to Deal with Rebellion

- 1) Proverbs 13:24 – “He who spares his rod hates his son but he who loves him disciplines him diligently,” Until age 12 or so, parents are God's primary tool to deal with rebellion. What does the word “rod” mean in this verse? The Hebrew word used here means a wooden stick. This verse says that parents who love their children will spank them to teach them not to rebel against authority. When done properly, spanking uses physical pain to drive rebellion out of the child's heart. After age 12 the rules start to transition to adult rules. Hopefully, most of the work in learning to submit to authority will have been accomplished. If not, then step 2.
- 2) Proverbs 17:11 - “A rebellious man seeks only evil, so a cruel messenger will be sent against him.” Some versions describe the cruel messenger as a “merciless official”. If a person continues in rebellion outside the control of the parents God will use officials from human institutions to discipline them. They can be somewhat cruel or merciless if resisted. These can include teachers, bosses, the military, police, justice system, etc. Unlike parents these people do not care about you. They are not concerned with how you feel about the matter. They expect you to obey them or they will punish you. Because God is patient he will continue to use this method for many years to get the attention of the rebellious person so that they might repent. But if after some time a person continues to resist authority even though disciplined by these officials, eventually God will move to step 3.
- 3) Proverbs 29:1 – “A man who hardens his neck after much reproof will suddenly be broken beyond remedy.” If a person still refuses to turn away from rebellion after discipline by these officials God will eventually elect to permanently destroy part of the person's life and will leave some element of pain in their life until they die. Examples: Moses did not enter the Promised Land because of his rebellion (anger) in the desert (Deuteronomy 32:48-52), Paul had a thorn in the flesh, a disability that was very painful and that he lived with everyday until the day he died (II Corinthians 12:7-9). Pride was his issue. In the vast majority of cases people will come to their senses and stop rebelling after either steps 2 or 3. In the few cases where they continue to rebel after all of this God will eventually move to step 4.

How many of you saw the movie “The Passion of the Christ”? Out of the whole movie I only found one mistake. Remember the crucifixion scene where the two criminals were crucified next to Jesus and one of them was mocking Jesus? What happened (in the movie) to that criminal? A bird pecked out his eyes. That didn't really happen. Mel Gibson misappropriated a verse out of Proverbs. It turns out the verse happens to be the next one we are going to look at. So let's look at it and I'll explain what it means.

- 4) Proverbs 30:17 – “The eye that mocks a father and scorns a mother, the ravens of the valley will pick it out, and the young eagles will eat it.” Its important that you understand that birds do not pick at the eyes of living people. So, if a bird is eating your eye what does that mean? You are dead. What else? You are not buried. So if a person continues in rebellion against parents, officials, and even after God has permanently afflicted them, God moves to the last step. You are laying in a ditch by the side of the road, alone, dead, and unburied.....and after a while, the birds come, and they start pecking at your eyes.

If rebellion continues then God will cut a person's life short.

This does not mean that everyone who dies young was rebellious – people die for many reasons. But it does mean that if a person continues in rebellion it eventually will lead to his life being shorter than God had originally intended.

Why would God do this? Because the Prime Directive has been thwarted. The person is not going to repent. There is no longer any hope that their Faith and Character are going to be developed.

Therefore, there is no longer any reason for them to remain on the Earth.

Submission to Authority

What makes submission to authority so difficult?

Fear. The fear of abuse, of being taken advantage of, a fear of being unprotected.

What is required for us to be able to overcome this fear & submit as God tells us to?

We must have confidence that God will protect us.

Proverbs 21:1 – “The king's heart is like channels of water in the hand of the LORD; He turns it wherever He wishes.”

Rarely will an authority ask you to do something illegal or immoral. If they do you should, of course, reluctantly decline (with humility and respect) but you should be able to point to the specific biblical verse whose principle they are asking you to violate. If you cannot do this you should try to obey.

However, what authorities will ask us to do a lot is stuff we don't want to do. Learning how to obey when we don't feel like it develops our faith and character and results in an eternal weight of gold. You can't do it unless you fully trust God to be in control and take care of you and that is what it comes down to.

Do you have enough faith to believe that God really is in control of the people who have authority over you?

In summary, we are to submit to the authorities God has put in our life. If the authority is unreasonable or harsh we are to still submit. In His time and in His way God will then intervene on our behalf. He will be our protector, He will be the one who brings us justice. He can do this by redirecting the heart of the authority concerning us and in many other ways. We need to make sure we do not resist authority unless the specific verse of biblical principle can be identified since God often uses authority to teach us things we may not want to learn (see the book of Daniel for examples of how to interact with godless authority). If we choose to resist authority or to dishonor or disrespect them then God will not intervene on our behalf and we are on our own.

Transitions

The question always comes up, “But what about a boss that is unethical? What about the Revolutionary War when America rebelled against England? These are transition situations.

In the case of the Revolutionary War the men that led that effort had to convince a majority of Americans to follow them in rebelling against an unjust government and they had to be willing to die, be maimed for life, and/or be financially ruined because it provided benefits for their descendants more so than for them personally. In fact, almost all of the signers of the Declaration of Independence experienced one or more of these consequences. Even these situations are transitory – in other words as soon as the war was over what was the first thing they did? They set up a new government and there they are right back under authority again.

In the case of the unethical boss you can quit your job. You will have to be willing to go without income during the transition period which will be a hardship for you and your family. When the transition is over you will have a new job and there you are right back under authority again.
